

LEARN SPANISH NEW ORLEANS

SCOPE & SEQUENCE

SPANISH 101

Spanish 101 - Scope and Sequence

("Sueña", Lessons 1 & 2)

Communication and Vocabulary

- Greetings and Farewells
- Introducing yourself, first name, last name, origin, profession, languages spoken
- Nationalities, countries, and professions
- Spelling
- Introducing someone else
- Asking and giving your address, telephone number, and email
- Answering the phone and asking for somebody
- Describing your home (rooms, furniture, etc...) House vocabulary
- Explaining the location of objects
- Routines and talking about daily actions
- Telling time
- Expressing the existence and location of people and objects
- Describing people, physical appearance, and clothing
- Comparison

Grammar

- Present forms of llamarse, apellidarse, ser, tener, hablar
- Subject pronouns
- Ser + adjective of nationality; Ser de + name of city or country
- Gender and number of adjectives of nationality
- Interrogative particles: ¿Qué?, ¿Cómo?, ¿Dónde?, ¿De dónde?, ¿Cuántos/as?, ¿A qué?
- Numbers (0-100)
- Present of Indicative of vivir / estar
- Grammar implications of informal / formal communication (tú/usted)
- Demonstrative pronouns /gender and number agreement
- Haber: hay form

- Indefinite and definite articles
- Hay + indefinite article or number
- Ser + adjective/tener + nouns/estar + adverb
- Prepositions and adverbs of place
- Introduction to Spanish verb system (-ar, -er, -ir)
- Indicative Present of most frequent verbs
- Ser, tener, and llevar for people descriptions
- Comparative constructions

Phonetics and Spelling

- Alphabet
- Pronunciation rules
- Exclamative and Interrogative intonation
- Practice “g” vs “j” and “c” vs “z”

Reading and Writing

- Personal information
- Abecedario, symbols (¿ ?) (¡ !)
- Basic information about other people
- Hispanic culture
- Agenda, letter, postcard, and advertisement
- Abbreviations (street, square, Mr., Mrs., Ms.)
- Types of writing (agenda, envelope, passport, advertisements)